CHICAGO, March 12, 1930.

Hon. Wm. Hale Thompson, Mayor, City of Chicago:

DEAR SIR—Your attention is respectfully called to an order passed by the City Council at its last meeting on March 6, 1930, and appearing upon page 2410 of the Journal of the Proceedings of said date, introduced by Alderman Guernsey, ordering that the Department of Public Works, Bureau of Streets and Department of Police at once remove or cause the removal from the sidewalk and public property of all vending and weighing machines of every nature.

The penny weighing machines are operated upon the sidewalk space under an ordinance passed March 21, 1918, page 2442 C. P., and bring the city a permit fee of $5.00 for each machine.

The revenue from these vending machines last year amounted to $8,000.00. All such machines are immediately removed and the permits revoked where any objections have been received. For these reasons, it is respectfully suggested that you veto said order and ask that the same be referred to the Committee on Local Industries, Streets and Alleys for consideration.

CHICAGO, March 12, 1930.

To the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Chicago in City Council Assembled:

Your Committee on Finance, to whom was referred a proposal for the use of the Union Lime Works quarry hole, located at West 19th street and South Lincoln street, for dumping purposes, having had the same under advisement, beg leave to report and recommend the printing of the statement of the Assistant Corporation Counsel, the opinion of the Corporation Counsel and the contract, attached hereto, and the passage of the order submitted herewith:

WHEREAS, The W. J. Newman Company has submitted a proposal for receiving and disposing of City waste at the quarry hole of the Union Lime Works located at West 19th and South Lincoln streets at a price of $0.43 per cubic yard; and

WHEREAS, A part of that section of Chicago to be served by the proposed dump at the present time delivers its refuse to McCook, Illinois, by truck or trailer, where the City is charged $0.35 per cubic yard for receiving the material and, in addition, must furnish the labor and equipment for leveling the dump, the long trip involving additional wear and tear on equipment and extra time required in making deliveries, which brings such cost to the City to approximately $1.13 per cubic yard compared with the average cost per cubic yard at 19th and Lincoln streets for dumping privileges, and delivery to the dump for the particular wards in question, of $0.73 per cubic yard; and

WHEREAS, A substantial saving can be effected through the use of the 19th and Lincoln streets quarry hole dump as compared with the present methods of disposal of the refuse in the area affected, and the Corporation Counsel has held that the City may enter into a contract with the W. J. Newman Company without jeopardizing the City's interest in the case now pending for the condemnation of said quarry hole, providing all parties at interest would sign a contract not to prejudice the City's interest in said suit by the proposed contract; therefore, be it

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be and he is hereby authorized to enter into a contract with the W. J. Newman Company for the disposal of refuse at the old Union Lime Works' quarry hole located at West 19th and South Lincoln streets, for the remainder of the year 1930, at a price of $0.43 per cubic yard, the contractor to furnish the necessary labor and equipment to handle the material and trailers at the dump; and the City Comptroller and City Treasurer are authorized and directed to pass for payment vouchers for same when properly approved by the Commissioner of Public Works, chargeable to appropriations made for the disposal of waste material.

The following are the copy of the opinion, the statement and contract submitted with the foregoing report:

COPY.

CHICAGO, February 6, 1930.

Hon. Jacob M. Arvey, Chairman of Sub-Committee of Committee on Finance, Chicago, Illinois:

DEAR SIR—We are in receipt of your letter of recent date requesting answers to certain questions submitted by you in the matter of the proposed contract between the City and a contractor, permitting the City to dump refuse into the quarry hole at West 19th street and Lincoln street known as the Union Lime Works quarry hole. This is the quarry hole which the City is now seeking to acquire for dumpage purposes in certain condemnation proceedings pending in the Circuit Court of Cook County. The questions and answers are as follows:

Question No. 1. How long will it take to adjudicate to its final conclusion the law suit to condemn the property of the Union Lime Works at 19th and Lincoln streets?

Answer No. 1. It is impossible to state definitely how long it will take to secure a final adjudication in the condemnation suit now pending in the Circuit Court. From our recent investigation, the case in the regular call of the Condemnation Court, will probably not be reached for trial the present court year, as there appears to be a sufficient number of cases ahead of our case to take the time of the court until the next vacation. After the trial in the Circuit Court, as you know, there may be an appeal by either party to the Supreme Court of the State. Whether such an appeal will be taken cannot be determined at this time.

Question No. 2. If the City enters into a contract with the present lessee or lessees for the privilege of dumping refuse on this property would the price stipulated in such contract jeopardize the City's interest in the outcome of its suit for condemnation?

Answer No. 2. We believe that the contract for the privilege of dumping refuse in this quarry hole, and the price stipulated therefor, would be competent in evidence on the trial of the condemnation case as a fact tending to prove the value of the quarry hole. Whether it would be prejudicial to the City in the condemnation case depends, of course upon the amount of compensation stipulated in the contract. If it was low enough it might be to the interests of the City to introduce it in evidence, and if it was high enough it would be to the interests of the quarry owners to introduce it in evidence for the purpose of enhancing the value of the stone quarry to be determined in the condemnation case. It probably would be to the interest of the stone quarry company rather than to the City to introduce such contract in evidence in the condemnation case.

Question No. 3. If an agreement is entered into by all parties concerned that the City's entering into such a contract should not operate to jeopardize the City's interest in such law suit would such an agreement be binding?

Answer No. 3. We believe that the parties concerned could enter into a valid agreement that the contract in question should not prejudice the City's interests in the condemnation case and should not be introduced in evidence or used in any manner in such case. If such an agreement is made, we think it should be signed not merely by the lessee or contractor, but by all of the defendants in the condemnation case, particularly the Chicago Union Lime Works Company.

Question No. 4. If, in your opinion, such a contract will not jeopardize the City's cause, what is your suggestion as to the proper form of agreement to be entered into?

Answer No. 4. If the contract is to be a contract separate and distinct from the contract granting the dumpage privilege, it would be the usual form of contract incorporating the facts and conditions first mutually agreed upon by the parties in conference.

Yours truly,

Special Assistant Corporation Counsel.

So far as our investigations show there are no other parties in interest than the parties enumerated in the attached contract. The parties of the second part to the contract are the same parties who are made defendants in the condemnation case. The persons who had intimated to Mr. Cenfield that they were interested in the stone quarry are merely stockholders, we are informed, in the Chicago Union Lime Works Company.

Special Assistant Corporation Counsel.

Whereas, There is being conducted at Washington by the Wickersham Law Enforcement Commission national public hearings, for the purpose of gathering information and evidence concerning the wet and dry issue; and

Whereas, The adoption of the 18th Amendment has reduced the revenue of the City of Chicago $8,000,000.00 annually, or $80,000,000.00 spread over a period of ten years, since prohibition has been in effect; and

Resolved, That it is the sense of the City Council of the City of Chicago that the following authentic report, embodying statistics covering the State of Illinois, be forwarded to the said Wickersham Law Enforcement Commission:

PERCENTAGE OF CRIME, POVERTY, INSANITY, MURDER, ALCOHOLIC DEATHS AND POOR HOUSE INMATES SINCE THE OPERATION OF THE 18TH AMENDMENT AND THE VOLSTEAD ACT.

	1918	1929	Per Cent
Chicago Police Department—
Drunken auto drivers	222	990	450
Disorderly conduct	44,949	85,997	191
Cook County Jail—Prisoners	9,672	13,014	134
Criminal Courts—Indictments.	2,891	4,425	153
House of Correction (Misdemeanors)—Prisoners	10,124	17,865	176
Joliet State Penitentiary—Prisoners	1,623	3,945	243
Pontiac Reformatory (under 25 years of age)—Prisoners	992	1,941	216
Chester Penitentiary for Insane—Prisoners	271	309	114
Cook County Coroner—Deaths due to alcohol	86	208	243
Chicago Health Department—Deaths due to alcohol	73	134	184
County Psychopathic Hospital—Patients	3,950	5,380	183
Cook County Hospital—Patients	29,525	46,750	158
Cook County Agent—Poverty Relief—Families	6,777	12,909	190
Cook County Court—Insane petitions	3,177	4,351	137
Elgin State Hospital—Insane Inmates	2,100	3,214	153
Oak Forest Poor House—Inmates	3,279	3,679	112
Kankakee State Hospital—Insane Inmates	3,289	3,831	117

The reason the increase is not greater in many of these institutions is because they are beyond their capacity now in the handling of commitments and if it were possible to house the added cases these figures would be enhanced tremendously. Notwithstanding this fact the Pontiac Reformatory had more commitments under 25 years of age in 1929 than in any previous year in its history. In the case of the County Court the number of petitions have been materially reduced by a system of examination before petition is filed, thus reducing the record and also preventing against excessive expenditures in handling those who later might be committed to a private institution.

Unanimous consent was given to permit action on said resolution without reference thereof to a committee.

MAYOR.

Veto.

Opening of Avenue O from E. 118th St. Southward.

Honorable William Hale Thompson, Mayor, submitted the following veto message:

Office of the Mayor,}
Chicago, March 19, 1930.}

To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Chicago:

Gentlemen—I return herewith, without my approval, an ordinance passed by Your Honorable Body at the meeting held March 12, 1930, and appearing on page 2467 of the Journal of the Proceedings of the City Council of said date, accepting the conveyance and dedication of a certain strip of land situated in the City of Chicago, County of Cook and State of Illinois, for the opening of Avenue O south of 118th street.

I withhold my approval of the said ordinance for the reason that I am advised by the Board of Local Improvements that the said ordinance provides that no special assessment or special tax shall be levied against the property owned by the grantors adjacent to the said Avenue O for a period of ten years, and that if a special assessment or special tax shall be levied against such property within the said ten-year period the City of Chicago will assume a public benefit therefor of not less than fifty per cent of the cost of the proposed improvement, and that the City further agrees, in the event that such special assessment or special tax is levied or confirmed against said property, that the City of Chicago will pay in the name of the owner of the properties the portion of the assessment levied against such owner prior to the time that said land may or should be sold for non-payment thereof.

I am advised by the Board of Local Improvements that there will undoubtedly be special assessments necessary for the construction of improvements in this territory, and that it is inadvisable to exempt the property in question from proper and reasonable special assessments in payment for such improvements for a period of ten years.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed) Wm. Hale Thompson,
Mayor.

Alderman D. A. Horan moved to reconsider the vote by which said vetoed ordinance was passed.

DEPARTMENT OF LAW.

Report on Matters in Connection with Endeavors of the Chicago Rapid Transit Co. to Maintain a 10-Cent Fare.

The City Clerk presented the following communication, which was ordered published and referred to the Committee on Local Transportation:

Department of Law,
Chicago, March 17, 1930.

To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Chicago:

Gentlemen—A resolution presented by Alderman Massen was adopted by Your Honorable Body, which resolution is as follows:

"Be it, and it is hereby, by the City Council of the City of Chicago Resolved:

That, in connection with the matter of the endeavors of the Chicago Rapid Transit Company to obtain and maintain a ten-cent fare, the Corporation Counsel of the City of Chicago be, and he is hereby, respectfully requested and directed to advise this City Council with respect to the following:

(1) What were the issues raised in the proceeding before the Illinois Commerce Commission and just what evidence did the City of Chicago introduce in that proceeding in support of the position taken by it on such issues;

(2) Whether or not it is probable that the City of Chicago can establish a valuation for the properties of the Chicago Rapid Transit Company substantially lower than the book value of $97,295,646.03 as of October 31, 1929, which the said corporation placed upon these properties;

(3) As to what valuation for the properties of the Chicago Rapid Transit Company the City would have to establish in order to furnish a proper basis, on the basis of valuation, for obtaining and maintaining fares on a basis of three rides for twenty-five cents;

(4) Whether or not there is any real possibility of the City of Chicago being able to establish a valuation for the properties of the Chicago Rapid Transit Company which, on the basis of valuation, will insure the obtaining and maintenance of fares on a basis of three rides for twenty-five cents;

(5) Whether or not the United States District Court has the right, in the proceeding now there pending, to disregard as items of operating expense items which have been charged to operating expense with the sanction of the Illinois Commerce Commission;

(6) Whether or not the United States District Court has jurisdiction, in the proceeding now there pending, to rescind or revise any of the leases or lease agreements which may have been executed by the Chicago Rapid Transit Company with the sanction of the Illinois Commerce Commission or to rescind or revise any of the operating agreements to which the Chicago Rapid Transit Company may be a party with the sanction of the Illinois Commerce Commission; and

(7) Whether or not it is possible to effect an increase in the operating revenues of the Chicago Rapid Transit Company by procuring a decrease of operating expenses through a revision of any one or more of the leases and/or operating agreements aforesaid or otherwise and, if so, what tribunal is the proper one before which to institute proceedings designed to effect an increase in the said operating revenue in such manner; as soon and as rapidly as it is possible for him so to do."

In compliance with the request contained in said resolution, we desire to call your attention to the fact that there is still pending in the United States District Court on reference to Special Master Mason the case of Chicago Rapid Transit Company, plaintiff, vs. Illinois Commerce Commission, defendant, and the City of Chicago, as intervening defendant, in which the question of fare rates and the questions incorporated in said resolution are involved in litigation and still undecided by the Special Master and the United States District Court. It would appear unseemly and, we think, inadvisable to present at this time a detailed discussion of these questions as relating to the probability or improbability of defeating the Chicago Rapid Transit Company's claim of right to a straight ten-cent fare in lieu of three fares for twenty-five cents and also the discontinuance of certain weekly passes in the lawsuit now pending before the Special Master of the United States District Court. However, within the restrictions imposed upon us in a professional way by reason of the pendency of said lawsuit, we are pleased to submit the following in answer to your resolution:

As to question number one, the Chicago Rapid Transit Company made application to the Illinois Commerce Commission for the proposed increase of fares from three fares for twenty-five cents to a straight ten-cent fare and also for the discontinuance of certain weekly passes. In support of its claim for such increased fares the company introduced in evidence the valuations made and contained in the report of the Commission in 1921, together with the present valuation of properties and equipment added thereto since the former valuation of 1921.

At the close of the evidence introduced by the Chicago Rapid Transit Company before the Commission the attorneys from this office, representing the City, introduced some proof for the purpose merely of clarifying some points.

The City's attorneys then presented a motion to the Commerce Commission to find that the existing rates of fare were just and reasonable rates upon the record as made before the Commission, and that the proposed increased rates of fare, as contained in the elevated railroad company's schedule filed on February 14, 1928, should be cancelled and annulled, upon the ground that the Chicago Rapid Transit Company had wholly failed to present competent evidence to the Commission entitling it to an increased rate of fares under the law.

Inasmuch as the elevated railroad company's claim for an increase in the rates of fare before the Commission was principally based upon an old valuation made of the railroad properties between 1919 and 1921 (the only present valuations being as to cost of additions since that time, amounting to $9,704,626.54), it was clearly manifest that under the law the elevated railroad company had wholly failed to make a case entitling it to increased rates of fare. The Illinois Commerce Commission upon the record could not under the law do otherwise than deny the proposed increased rates of fare. Had the Commission granted the increased fares as proposed in the schedule filed with it by the Chicago Rapid Transit Company, the City of Chicago would have taken an appeal to the courts from such order of the Commission, and would have had no difficulty in having the same set aside under the law.

On the hearing before the Commerce Commission the attorneys representing the City cited and read legal authorities laying down the rule that rates of fare established by a commission or public utilities board must be based upon present valuations, together with a number of other matters, and not upon prior valuations. The Commission appeared to be thoroughly convinced of the correctness of the City's contention in this regard.

As to the other questions contained in said resolution, it is quite manifest that the answers to the same involve elements that can properly and accurately be ascertained only by thorough and exhaustive investigations, appraisals, valuations, examination and analyses of methods of accounts, management, operating expenses, depreciations, reserves, replacements, repairs, value of service rendered to the public in comparison with other transportation systems, and many other matters. As said by the Supreme Court of the United States in Smyth v. Ames, 169 U. S. 466, at page 547:

> "The original cost of construction, the amount expended for permanent improvements, the amount and market value of its bonds and stocks, the present as compared with the original cost of construction, the probable earning capacity of the property under particular rates prescribed by statute, and the sum required to meet operating expenses, are all matters for consideration, and are to be given such weight as may be just and right in each case. We do not say that there may not be other matters to be regarded in estimating the value of the property. What the company is entitled to ask is a fair return upon the value of that which it employs for the public convenience. On the other hand, what the public is entitled to demand is that no more be exacted from it for the use of a public highway than the services rendered by it are reasonably worth."

It is self-evident that the investigations necessary to ascertain the matters as above set forth require experienced men, skilled in the various lines as indicated, and with a requisite technical knowledge to ascertain and reveal the true facts concerning all the different elements and matters involved in a rate-making case. It was because of this necessity that the Corporation Counsel felt that proper investigations should be made to ascertain the real facts, and, in the performance of his duty, to enable him to intelligently and efficiently protect the people against any unnecessary and unjust increase in the rates of fare for their transportation upon the lines of the Chicago Rapid Transit Company. For this purpose and to this end the Corporation Counsel requested Your Honorable Body to make an appropriation of adequate funds to enable him to have the necessary investigations and appraisals made and other work done, as above indicated, so that the true facts could be ascertained and the car riders properly protected against the payment of excessive rates of fare for their transportation upon the elevated railroad lines.

As to the power and jurisdiction of the United States District Court in the pending rate case before it, the issue is as to whether the order of the Illinois Commerce Commission entered June 28, 1928, is confiscatory and in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution. In determining that issue the United States District Court has jurisdiction to consider and determine every element in the case, including all items of operating expenses, methods of accounting, improvident leases, methods of management and operation, etc. If it should appear to the court that any improvident lease or agreement was made by the Chicago Rapid Transit Company with any other utility or concern that affected the revenues of the elevated railroad company, the court would not, in our opinion, burden the car riders in the City of Chicago with the result of such improvident or unfair obligations thus assumed by the elevated railroad company. Denying the railroad company the right to make up such losses out of increased fares to the riding public in the City of Chicago would not, in our opinion, be regarded as the taking of property "without due process of law" in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) EDWARD C. HIGGINS,
Special Assistant Corporation Counsel.

(Signed) JOHN G. DRENNAN,
Special Assistant Corporation Counsel.

Acting Corporation Counsel.

WHEREAS, The City's water supply has been cut off from the premises generally known as Nos. 926-930 South Marshfield avenue on account of non-payment of water rates amounting to $183.60 which was due and payable on November 5, 1929; and that the further indebtedness has accrued to the Water Fund of $79.19 by reason of the shutting off and the subsequent turning on of said water; and

WHEREAS, The owner of said premises alleges that payment for the said water rates was duly forwarded through the owner's' agent but failed to reach the collector of water rates, as intended, by reason of some mistake or default on account of said owner's agent, and there appears to be reason for the belief that such failure was not due to any fault or neglect on the part of said owner, and the cutting off of the water under such conditions has worked a hardship on said owner, and it appearing that no loss will result to the City if an opportunity to pay said accrued debt in installments be afforded to the owner of said premises; therefore, it is

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Water be and he is hereby authorized and directed to accept payment from the owner of the premises generally known as Nos. 926-930 South Marshfield avenue for the indebtedness amounting to the sum of $262.79 that has accrued to the Water Fund by reason of delinquent water rates and charges arising from the cutting off and turning on of water at said premises, at the rate of $25.00 per month, such monthly installments to be paid on the first day of each month, beginning on May 1, 1930, until such indebtedness and further indebtedness that may accrue to the Water Fund at said premises while such payments are being made shall have been fully paid; and, it is further Ordered, That during the period in which such payments are being made, if the said payments are promptly met each month, the water shall not be shut off from said premises by any City employe or at the order of any of the City's officers or employes unless there shall be a further order to that effect by the City Council.

Request that New Buildings Partially Completed on April 1, 1929, Be Assessed Proportionately for Taxation Purposes.

said resolution without reference thereof to a committee.

Alderman Clark moved to adopt said resolution.

The motion prevailed.

The following is said resolution as adopted:

WHEREAS, The Board of Assessors of Cook County has heretofore adopted a rule to omit from taxation every building which is not substantially completed on April first, the date fixed by law for the listing of real estate for assessment purposes; and

WHEREAS, Because of such rule many million dollars worth of taxable real estate wholly escape paying taxes each year which not only adds an increased burden on other tax payers but also causes a very appreciable loss of revenue to the City of Chicago and other tax levying bodies; and

WHEREAS, The Chairman of the Committee on Finance is advised that there is no legal justification for the said rule of the assessing authorities of Cook County; and

WHEREAS, Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom has heretofore rendered an opinion to the State Tax Commission, a copy of which is hereto attached, that it is, as a matter of law, the duty of the assessing authorities to ascertain and determine the fair cash value of a structure as of April first and to assess the same, although said structure may not be fully completed on that date; and

WHEREAS, The Chairman of the Committee on Finance is advised by the assessing authorities in several counties in Illinois, outside of Cook County, that it is the practice in their counties to assess uncompleted buildings as of their value on April first each year; and

WHEREAS, The Chairman of the Committee on Finance is advised by the assessing authorities of Cleveland and Detroit, which are noted for their progressive assessment methods, that it is their practice to assess uncompleted buildings at the fair cash market value of all labor and materials entering into the cost of such structures as of April first of each year; and

WHEREAS, Immediately before April 1st, 1929, upon the request of the Chairman of the Committee on Finance, the Commissioner of Buildings furnished him with information, a tabulated statement of which is hereto attached, showing that, excluding the buildings costing less than $25,000.00, there were at that time 706 buildings in course of construction in Chicago, which when completed, would according to the building permits taken out on such buildings cost approximately $145,000,000.00; and

WHEREAS, Some of such structures, according to the information received from the Commissioner of Buildings, were 99% completed, some 95% completed, some 90% completed and others were in all the various stages of construction; and

WHEREAS, Such uncompleted structures on April 1, 1929, represented a value in their then uncompleted condition of approximately $90,000,000.00, which, if assessed in conformity with the law as interpreted by the Attorney General, will mean additional revenue to the City of Chicago which is sorely needed at this time, now therefore, be it

Resolved, By the City Council of the City of Chicago that the Board of Assessors and the Board of Review of Cook County are hereby requested to perform the duty required of them by law and ascertain and determine the fair cash value of such uncompleted structures as of April 1, 1929, and to assess the same; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution shall be forwarded by the City Clerk to each of the members of the Board of Assessors and Board of Review of Cook County, as well as to the State Tax Commission.

The following are the copy of the opinion of the Attorney-General and the tabulated list of uncompleted buildings referred to and submitted with the foregoing resolution:

October 16, 1925.

File No. 336.
Taxation:

Valuation of railway station building not yet completed on April 1, 1925.

Hon. William H. Malone, Chairman, Tax Commission, Springfield, Illinois:

DEAR SIR—I have your letter of September 24th (received by me on October 14th), which reads as follows:

> "In the matter of the assessment of the station building of the Chicago Union Station Company, it appears that this building has been in process of erection for the past several years, and was not fully completed on April 1, 1925; that it had been under roof for a considerable time prior to that date and was finally opened and occupied for railroad purposes on May 15, 1925; that the Chicago Union Station Company has never made any return of this building for assessment purposes, although on April 1, 1925, the building was nearly completed and represented a building cost of several million dollars.
> I am directed by this Commission to ask that you advise what the rights and duties of the Commission are with respect to the assessment of this building for taxing purposes for the year 1925.
> As our tentative valuations on this class of property are now complete, save for this item, we will greatly appreciate your early reply to this inquiry."

In reply, permit me to quote, for your consideration, a part of Section 18 of the Revenue Act of 1898.

> ". . . Real property shall be valued at its fair cash value, estimated at the price it would bring at a fair voluntary sale in the course of trade, which shall be set down in one column to be headed 'full value', and one-half part thereof shall be set down in another column, which shall be headed 'assessed value'.
> The State Board of Equalization in valuing property assessed by them shall ascertain and determine respectively the fair cash value of such property, which fair cash value shall be set down in one column to be headed 'full value', and one-half part thereof shall be ascertained and set down in another column, which shall be headed 'assessed value'. The one-half value of all property so ascertained and set down shall be the assessed value for all purposes of taxation, limitation of taxation, and limitation of indebtedness prescribed in the constitution of any statute".

By virtue of this statutory provision it is incumbent upon the Tax Commission to ascertain and determine the fair cash value of the said station building, which value shall be determined as of April 1st of this year.

In view of the constitutional requirement of uniformity in taxation, it then becomes necessary for the Tax Commission to equalize the fair cash value so ascertained and determined as the values of other property are equalized throughout the State, and take the value so found as the "full value" referred to in Section 18 quoted above. (People's Gas Light & Coke Company v. Stuckart, 286 Ill. 164; People v. C., B. & Q. R. R. Co., 300 Ill. 399.)

Very truly yours,

(Signed) Oscar E. Carlstrom,
Attorney-General.

Alderman Nelson presented the following resolution:

WHEREAS, This City Council has by unanimous vote ordered placed on the ballot for public referendum the matter of issuing bonds to pay judgments due property-owners on Western avenue, Ashland avenue, LaSalle street and for the completion of the Ogden avenue improvement; and

WHEREAS, The approval by the voters of Chicago of these bond issues is not only a matter of saving interest money and liability resulting from damage suits against the City but as well a matter of justice to the property-owners who hold judgments against the City, and also as well a matter of finance and usefulness to the entire population of Chicago; and

WHEREAS, At this particular time with hundreds of thousands of unemployed, the approval of these bond issues will mean not only work for them but added business to the manufacturer and retail merchant by reason of the fact that this bond issue money would be placed in circulation through the employment of thousands of workers in the remodeling of property that will have to be moved back to complete the improvements; and if there was ever a time when public improvements should be pushed forward it is at a time such as this, when private business is at a slow ebb; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we the City Council of the City of Chicago in regular session assembled, do hereby call upon the leaders and workers of all political parties, the officers and members of all civic and business organizations, and particularly the press of Chicago to state the facts in connection with the referendum vote on the bond issues to be presented on the ballot on April 8th; and that we do hereby request them to urge upon all voters, irrespective of party politics, to vote "yes" on the bond issues provided for to pay the judgments on Western avenue, Ashland avenue, LaSalle street, and for the completion of Ogden avenue.

The blast furnace slag, limestone, or other stone equivalent in quality for concrete purposes used in making the concrete for the said concrete foundation shall be of the best quality of each of the respective materials to be used, clean, free from dust and graded so that one hundred (100) per cent can pass a ring of two (2) inches inside diameter, and not less than forty (40) per cent nor more than seventy (70) per cent can pass a ring of three-fourths (¾) inch inside diameter, and not more than ten (10) per cent can pass a ring of one-fourth (¼) of an inch inside diameter.

The Portland cement used in this improvement shall be ground so that ninety-two (92) per cent can pass a one hundred (100) mesh sieve, and shall be of such quality that briquettes made of a mortar composed of a proper amount of clean water, one (1) part by volume of said Portland cement and three (3) parts by volume of said sand used for making the concrete for the said concrete foundation, shall have, at the expiration of seven (7) days, an ultimate tensile strength of at least two hundred (200) pounds per square inch, after being exposed to the air for the first day and then submerged in water for the six (6) following days.

The concrete for the said concrete foundation shall be made by mixing by volume one (1) part of said Portland cement, two (2) parts of said sand or two (2) parts of said limestone screenings and three and one-half (3½) parts of said blast furnace slag, said limestone or other stone, together with a proper amount of clean water in a rotary batch mixer until thoroughly mixed. The said mixture shall then be spread upon the surface of the roadbed prepared as herein prescribed and rammed until thoroughly compacted. The upper surface of said concrete foundation shall be parallel with and three (3) inches below the upper surface of the finished pavement.

Upon the concrete foundation thus prepared within forty-five (45) minutes after the said mixture is spread shall be laid a wearing surface of Portland cement concrete two (2) inches in thickness, composed of one (1) part by volume of Portland cement, two (2) parts of sand and three and one-half (3½) parts of crushed granite or trap rock. The Portland cement and the sand in said concrete shall be of the quality herein specified for the concrete foundation. The crushed granite or trap rock shall be of the best quality, clean, free from dust, and graded as prescribed for the stone in the concrete foundation, except that one hundred (100) per cent can pass a ring of one and one-half (1½) inches inside diameter.

The said Portland cement, sand, and the granite or trap rock, with the proper amount of clean water, shall be mixed in a rotary batch mixer until thoroughly mixed. The mixture shall then be spread upon the surface of the said concrete foundation and rammed or rolled until thoroughly compacted. After the ramming or rolling has been completed the pavement shall be rubbed smooth of all ridges or depressions and brought to a true and even surface by drawing a belt over same.

Prior to the placing of the mixture for the concrete foundation transverse joints and longitudinal joints shall be placed.

Transverse joints shall be placed across the concrete pavement in said above specified streets in conformity with the curb lines produced of all intersecting streets and across the concrete pavement at the intersecting streets in conformity with the curb lines of said above specified streets. Transverse joints shall also be placed across the concrete pavement at right angles to the center line of said above specified streets between the intersecting streets at intervals of thirty (30) feet as near as may be, but not exceeding thirty-one (31) feet, measured along the center line of the roadways of said above specified streets. Said transverse joints shall be one-half (½) of an inch thick and shall extend the full width of the concrete pavement and vertically through the entire thickness thereof.

Longitudinal joints shall be placed in the concrete pavement along the center line of the roadways of said above specified streets and along the center line of the roadways of all intersecting streets extended from the curb line to the street line on each side of said above specified streets between said points (except across the transverse joints).

Said longitudinal joints shall be one-eighth (⅛) of an inch thick and shall extend vertically through the entire thickness of the concrete pavement.

All joints shall be filled with Carey's Elastite Joint or a joint of fiber matrix and bitumen of a quality equal, for the purpose intended, to Carey's Elastite Joint.

Said work to be done in a workmanlike manner under the superintendence of the Board of Local Improvements of said City of Chicago.

The roadways of the several streets specified above between the points herein described and also the roadways of all intersecting streets and alleys extended from the curb line to the street line on each side of said above specified streets between the points herein described (except East 96th street and East 97th street from a line parallel with and eight (8) feet east of the west line of Jeffery avenue to a line parallel with and eight (8) feet west of the east line of Jeffery avenue shall be so graded by filling or cutting and compacted by rolling with a roller of ten (10) tons weight that after the grading of the roadbeds is completed and the pavement herein described placed thereon, the surface of the finished pavement at the center of the roadway of each of said above specified streets and at the center of the roadways of all intersecting streets shall be at the elevation of the top of the curbing herein described; and the surface of the said finished pavement at the summits between catchbasins and adjoining the roadway face of the curbing shall be two (2) inches below the top of said curbing, and at the catchbasin inlets adjoining the roadway face of the curbing shall be eight (8) inches below the top of said curbing. The slope of the finished pavement adjoining the roadway face of said curbing shall be uniform from the summits to the catchbasin inlets.

A transverse section of the surface of the finished pavement shall be an arc of a circle passing through the surface of the pavement adjoining the curbing and the surface of the pavement at the center of said roadway at every part of the roadway of each of said above specified streets and of all intersecting streets between the points herein described.

In all intersecting alleys herein specified at the street lines of said above specified streets the surface of the finished pavement adjoining the curbing shall be even with the top of the curbing, and the surface of the finished pavement at the center of the roadways of said alleys shall be three (3) inches below the top of the curbing; and a transverse section of the surface of the finished pavement at the street lines of said above specified streets shall be an arc of a circle passing through the surface of the pavement adjoining said curbing and the surface of the pavement at the center of said roadways. The surface of the said pavement thence shall slope gradually to meet the surface of the pavement at the curb lines of said above specified streets.

A foundation of Portland cement concrete six (6) inches thick shall be laid upon the roadbeds thus prepared, between said points and between said curbing.

The sand used in making concrete for the said concrete foundation shall be clean and sharp, free from dust, dirt and other impurities, and may contain not more than three (3) per cent of clay or loam, and graded so that not less than ninety-five (95) per cent can pass a four (4) mesh sieve and not more than twenty-five (25) per cent can pass a fifty (50) mesh sieve.

The limestone screenings used in making concrete for the said concrete foundation shall be made from the best quality of limestone, free from dust, dirt and other impurities, and shall be graded so that not less than ninety-five (95) per cent can pass a four (4) mesh sieve and not more than fifteen (15) per cent can pass a one hundred (100) mesh sieve.

The blast furnace slag, limestone, or other stone equivalent in quality for concrete purposes used in making the concrete for the said concrete foundation shall be of the best quality of each of the respective materials to be used, clean, free from dust and graded so that one hundred (100) per cent can pass a ring of two (2) inches inside diameter, and not less than forty (40) per cent nor more than seventy (70) per cent can pass a ring of three-fourths (¾) of an inch inside diameter, and not more than ten (10) per cent can pass a ring of one-fourth (¼) of an inch inside diameter.

The Portland cement used in this improvement shall be ground so that ninety-two (92) per cent can pass a one hundred (100) mesh sieve, and shall be of such quality that briquettes made of a mortar composed of a proper amount of clean water, one (1) part by volume of said Portland cement and three (3) parts by volume of said sand used for making the concrete for the said concrete foundation, shall have, at the expiration of seven (7) days, an ultimate tensile strength of at least two hundred (200) pounds per square inch, after being exposed to the air for the first day and then submerged in water for the six (6) following days.

The concrete for the said concrete foundation shall be made by mixing by volume one (1) part of said Portland cement, two (2) parts of said sand or two (2) parts of said limestone screenings and three and one-half (3½) parts of said blast furnace slag, said limestone or other stone, together with a proper amount of clean water in a rotary batch mixer until thoroughly mixed. The said mixture shall then be spread upon the surface of the roadbed prepared as herein prescribed and rammed until thoroughly compacted. The upper surface of said concrete foundation shall be parallel with and two (2) inches below the upper surface of the finished pavement.

Upon the concrete foundation thus prepared within forty-five (45) minutes after the said mixture is spread shall be laid a wearing surface of Portland cement concrete two (2) inches in thickness, composed of one (1) part by volume of Portland cement, two (2) parts of sand and three and one-half (3½) parts of crushed granite or trap rock. The Portland cement and the sand in said concrete shall be of the quality herein specified for the concrete foundation. The crushed granite or trap rock shall be of the best quality, clean, free from dust, and graded as prescribed for the stone in the concrete foundation, except that one hundred (100) per cent can pass a ring of one and one-half (1½) inches inside diameter.

The mixture shall then be spread upon the surface of the said concrete foundation and rammed or rolled until thoroughly compacted. After the ramming or rolling has been completed the pavement shall be rubbed smooth of all ridges or depressions and brought to a true and even surface by drawing a belt over same.

Prior to the placing of the mixture for the concrete pavement transverse joints and longitudinal joints shall be placed.

Transverse joints shall be placed across the concrete pavement in said above specified streets in conformity with the curb lines produced of all intersecting streets and across the concrete pavement at intersecting streets in conformity with the curb lines of said above specified streets. Transverse joints shall also be placed across the concrete pavement at right angles to the center line of said above specified streets between the intersecting streets at intervals of thirty (30) feet as near as may be, but not exceeding thirty-one (31) feet, measured along the center line of the roadways of said above specified streets. Said transverse joints shall be one-half (½) of an inch thick and shall extend the full width of the concrete pavement and vertically through the entire thickness thereof.

Longitudinal joints shall be placed in the concrete pavement along the center line of the roadways of said above specified streets and along the center line of the roadways of all intersecting streets extended from the curb line to the street line on each side of said above specified streets (except across the transverse joints). Said longitudinal joints shall be one-eighth (⅛) of an inch thick and shall extend vertically through the entire thickness of the concrete pavement.

All joints shall be filled with Carey's Elastite Joint or a joint of fiber matrix and bitumen of a quality equal, for the purpose intended, to Carey's Elastite Joint.

Said layer of broken limestone and screenings shall be wetted and rolled with a roller of ten (10) tons weight until the same is thoroughly bonded, solid and unyielding. The thickness of said layer after being thus rolled shall be five (5) inches.

Upon said layer of broken limestone shall be spread a second layer of the best quality of broken limestone crushed to a size that will pass through a ring of four (4) inches internal diameter and be held on a ring of two (2) inches internal diameter, which layer of limestone shall be covered with the best quality of limestone screenings in such a quantity as to fill all the interstices in said layer of limestone.

Said layer of broken limestone and screenings shall be wetted and rolled with a roller of ten (10) tons weight until the same is thoroughly bonded, solid and unyielding. The thickness of said second layer of limestone after being thus rolled shall be five (5) inches.

Upon said second layer of slag or upon said second layer of limestone shall be spread a layer of the best quality of broken limestone crushed to a size that will pass through a ring of two (2) inches internal diameter and be held on a ring of one (1) inch internal diameter. Said layer of broken limestone shall be rolled with a self-propelled roller of ten (10) tons weight until the same is brought to a true and uniform surface, after which asphaltic cement in the proportion of one and one-half (1½) gallons to each square yard of surface shall be poured over it in such a manner as to thoroughly and uniformly coat the limestone. At the time of the application of said asphaltic cement the limestone must be in a dry condition.

Immediately after applying the asphaltic cement the surface shall be covered with dry limestone, free from dirt, crushed to a size that will pass through a ring of one-half (½) inch internal diameter and be held on a ring of one-fourth (¼) inch internal diameter, in sufficient quantity to fill all the interstices in the above course and then shall be thoroughly rolled with a self-propelled roller of ten (10) tons weight until the said limestone is thoroughly bonded in this layer.

The pavement shall then be swept and any excess of limestone removed, after which asphaltic cement in the proportion of one-half (½) gallon to each square yard of surface shall be poured over the same. The surface of the pavement shall then receive a one-fourth (¼) inch dressing of limestone screenings, free from dust.

The entire surface of the pavement as thus improved shall then be rolled with a self-propelled roller of ten (10) tons weight until the same is thoroughly bonded, and of a true, uniform and unyielding surface. The thickness of said layer when bonded as herein described shall be two and one-half (2½) inches.

The asphaltic cement shall comply with the following requirements:

The asphaltic cement shall have a specific gravity at seventy-seven (77) degrees Fahrenheit of not less than ninety-seven hundredths (.97).

The bitumen of the asphaltic cement shall be soluble in carbon tetra chloride to the extent of at least ninety-eight and one-half (98½) per cent.

The melting or softening point of the asphaltic cement shall be not less than one hundred (100) degrees Fahrenheit nor more than one hundred thirty-five (135) degrees Fahrenheit.

The asphaltic cement shall have a penetration of from eighty (80) to one hundred fifty (150) degrees, which shall be varied within these limits to adapt it to the particular asphalt and flux used, and to conditions of the street.

When fifty (50) grams of the asphaltic cement of the consistency used in the paving mixture are heated for five (5) hours at a temperature of three hundred twenty-five (325) degrees Fahrenheit, in a tin box two and one-fourth (2¼) inches in diameter, there must not be volatilized more than five (5) per cent of the bitumen, nor shall the penetration after such heating be less than one-half (½) the original penetration.

A briquette of the asphaltic cement of a consistency equivalent to eighty (80) penetration shall have a ductility of at least ten (10) centimeters.

The asphaltic cement used in the above proposed improvement shall be applied at a temperature of not less than three hundred (300) degrees Fahrenheit.

Said pavement shall be backfilled with earth, free from animal or vegetable matter, said filling to be five (5) feet wide at the top edge of said pavement and even therewith and shall slope down at the rate of one and one-half (1½) feet horizontal to one (1) foot vertical.

The roadway of East 103rd street, as and when opened and widened, from the easterly curb line of Cottage Grove avenue to the west curb line of Torrence avenue and also the roadways of all intersecting streets and alleys extended from the curb line to the street line on each side of said East 103rd street between said points (except from a line parallel with and one thousand eight hundred sixty-eight (1,868) feet east of the east line of Corliss avenue produced north to a line parallel with and two hundred sixty-four (264) feet west of the west line of Crandon avenue and also except space occupied by steam railroad tracks) shall be so graded by filling or cutting and compacted by rolling with a roller of ten (10) tons weight that after the grading of the roadbeds is completed and the pavement herein described placed thereon, the surface of the finished pavement at the center of the roadway of said East 103rd street and at the center of the roadways of all intersecting streets shall be at the elevation of the top of the curbing herein described; and the surface of the said finished pavement at the summits in the gutters between catchbasins and adjoining the roadway face of the curbing shall be three (3) inches below the top of said curbing, and at the catchbasin inlets in the gutters adjoining the roadway face of the curbing shall be nine (9) inches below the top of said curbing. The slope of the gutters adjoining the roadway face of said curbing shall be uniform from the summits to the catchbasin inlets.

A transverse section of the surface of the finished pavement and gutters shall be an arc of a circle passing through the said gutter elevations and the elevation of the center of said roadway at every part of the roadway of said East 103rd street and of all intersecting streets between said points.

In all intersecting alleys herein specified at the street lines of said East 103rd street, the surface of the finished pavement adjoining the curbing shall be even with the top of the curbing, and the surface of the finished pavement at the center of the roadways of said alleys shall be three (3) inches below the top of the curbing; and a transverse section of the surface of the finished pavement at the street lines of said East 103rd street shall be an arc of a circle passing through the surface of the pavement adjoining said curbing and the surface of the pavement at the center of said finished roadways. The surface of the said pavement thence shall slope gradually to meet the surface of the finished pavement at the curb lines of said East 103rd street.

A foundation of Portland cement concrete eight (8) inches thick shall be laid upon the roadbeds thus prepared between said points and between said gutters.

The sand used in making concrete for the said concrete foundation shall be clean and sharp, free from dust, dirt and other impurities and shall contain not more than three (3) per cent of clay or loam, and be graded so that not less than ninety-five (95) per cent can pass a four (4) mesh sieve and not more than twenty-five (25) per cent can pass a fifty (50) mesh sieve.

The slag or limestone screenings used in making concrete for the said concrete foundation shall be made from the best quality of slag or limestone, free from dust, dirt and other impurities, and shall be graded so that not less than ninety-five (95) per cent can pass a four (4) mesh sieve and not more than fifteen (15) per cent can pass a one hundred (100) mesh sieve.

The slag, limestone or other stone equivalent in quality, for concrete purposes used in making the concrete for the said concrete foundation shall be of the best quality of each of the respective materials to be used, clean, free from dust and graded so that one hundred (100) per cent can pass a ring of two (2) inches inside diameter, and not less than twenty (20) per cent nor more than forty (40) per cent can pass a ring of three-fourths (¾) inch inside diameter, and not more than ten (10) per cent can pass a ring of one-fourth (¼) inch inside diameter.

The Portland cement used in this improvement shall be ground so that ninety-two (92) per cent can pass a one hundred (100) mesh sieve, and shall be of such quality that briquettes made of a mortar composed of a proper amount of clean water, one (1) part by volume of said Portland cement and three (3) parts by volume of said sand used for making the concrete for the said concrete foundation shall have at the expiration of seven (7) days, an ultimate tensile strength of at least two hundred (200) pounds per square inch, after being exposed to the air for the first day and then submerged in water for the six (6) following days.

The concrete for the said concrete foundation shall be made by mixing by volume one (1) part of said Portland cement, two and one-half (2½) parts of said sand or two and one-half (2½) parts of said slag or limestone screenings and five (5) parts of said slag, limestone, or other stone together with a proper amount of clean water in a rotary batch mixer until the resulting concrete has been thoroughly mixed. The said concrete shall then be spread upon the surface of the roadbed prepared as herein prescribed and rammed until thoroughly compacted. The upper surface of said concrete foundation shall be parallel with and three and one-half (3½) inches below the upper surface of the finished pavement.

A binder course two (2) inches thick shall be laid upon said concrete foundation.

A wearing course one and one-half (1½) inches thick shall be laid upon said binder course.

The sand or limestone screenings used in making the mixture for the binder course and the sand used in making the mixture for the wearing course shall be clean, hard-grained, free from foreign matter, and so graded that all of said sand or limestone screenings can pass a four (4) mesh sieve and so that not more than six (6) per cent can be held on a ten (10) mesh sieve and so that not less than eight (8) per cent nor more than twenty-five (25) per cent can pass a ten (10) mesh sieve and be held on a forty (40) mesh sieve, and so that not less than thirty (30) per cent nor more than fifty-six (56) per cent can pass a forty (40) mesh sieve and be held on an eighty (80) mesh sieve, and so that not less than twenty (20) per cent nor more than forty-five (45) per cent can pass an eighty (80) mesh sieve.

The limestone or other stone equal thereto for binder mixture used in the mixture for the binder course shall be clean, broken, hard and durable, free from foreign matter and so graded that all can pass a ring of one and five-eighths (1⅝) inches inside diameter and ninety (90) per cent thereof can be held on a ring of one-fourth (¼) inch inside diameter.

Levigated stone shall be construed to mean, for the purpose of this ordinance, levigated limestone, other levigated stone equivalent to levigated limestone for paving purposes, Portland cement or the finely divided mineral matter self contained in the refined native solid asphalt.

The refined asphalt used in making the asphalt cement for the mixture for the binder course and the mixture for the wearing course shall be obtained from crude, native solid asphalt, except as herein provided. If crude, native solid asphalt is used and requires refining, it shall be heated to a temperature of not over four hundred fifty (450) degrees Fahrenheit until all water and light oils have been driven off. At least ninety-eight and one-half (98½) per cent of the bitumen contained in the said refined asphalt which is soluble in carbon disulphide shall be soluble in cold carbon tetra chloride.

The refined asphalt used in making said asphalt cement may also be obtained by the straight reduction of asphaltic petroleum until the refined asphalt has a consistency not softer than seven (7) millimeters penetration and not harder than two and one-half (2½) millimeters penetration, the penetration being made with a No. 2 Needle, weighted with one hundred (100) grams acting for five (5) seconds on the material at a temperature of seventy-seven (77) degrees Fahrenheit. Ninety-eight and one-half (98½) per cent of the said refined asphalt, so obtained, shall be soluble in cold carbon tetra chloride. When fifty (50) grams of said refined asphalt is heated in an uncovered tin box five and one-half (5½) centimeters in diameter and three and one-half (3½) centimeters in depth and is held at a temperature of three hundred twenty-five (325) degrees Fahrenheit for five (5) hours, then it shall have lost not over two (2) per cent by weight and the penetration of the residue thus obtained shall be not less than one-half (½) of the penetration before such heating, said penetration being determined as herein prescribed. The said refined asphalt shall have a ductility of not less than sixty (60) centimeters at five (5) millimeters penetration determined as herein prescribed, said ductility being determined by elongating a briquette, Dow form, of said refined asphalt at a uniform rate of five (5) centimeters per minute at a temperature of seventy-seven (77) degrees Fahrenheit.

The flux used in making the asphalt cement shall be the residuum obtained by the straight reduction of crude petroleum, which flux shall be tested with and found suitable to the refined asphalt to be used. At least ninety-nine (99) per cent of said flux shall be soluble in cold carbon tetra chloride. The flux shall have a specific gravity of not less than ninety-four one-hundredths (.94) and not more than one and ten one-hundredths (1.10) at seventy-seven (77) degrees Fahrenheit as compared with water at seventy-seven (77) degrees Fahrenheit, and when tested in a Cleveland Open Cup Oil Tester, it shall not flash below a temperature of three hundred eighty (380) degrees Fahrenheit; and when fifty (50) grams of the said flux is heated in an uncovered tin box five and one-half (5½) centimeters in diameter and three and one-half (3½) centimeters in depth and is held at a temperature of three hundred twenty-five (325) degrees Fahrenheit for five (5) hours, then it shall not have lost over three (3) per cent by weight. The flux shall have a penetration of not less than thirty-five (35) millimeters, the penetration being made with a No. 2 needle weighted with fifty (50) grams acting for one (1) second, the material being tested at seventy-seven (77) degrees Fahrenheit.

The asphalt cement used in the binder course and in the wearing course shall be made from one (1) of said refined asphalts or from a mixture of any two (2) of said refined asphalts and said flux, if flux must be used, provided that the mixture of refined asphalts shall contain equal parts of each of the refined asphalts, and that the said asphalt cement shall contain not less than sixty (60) per cent by weight of refined asphalt or asphalts. The said asphalt cement shall be made by mixing and heating the said refined asphalt or asphalts and the said flux in a kettle at a temperature not lower than two hundred fifty (250) degrees Fahrenheit and not higher than three hundred fifty (350) degrees Fahrenheit. This mixture shall be thoroughly agitated when hot by steam, air or mechanical means until the said mixture has become homogeneous. The said asphalt cement shall have a penetration, determined as herein prescribed, of not less than two and one-half (2½) millimeters and not more than seven (7) millimeters. When fifty (50) grams of said asphalt cement is heated in an uncovered tin box five and one-half (5½) centimeters in diameter and three and one-half (3½) centimeters in depth and is held at a temperature of three hundred twenty-five (325) degrees Fahrenheit for five (5) hours, then it shall have lost not more than three (3) per cent by weight, and the penetration. determined as herein prescribed, shall be not less than one-half (½) of the penetration before such heating. A briquette, Dow form, of the said asphalt cement of the consistency as used in this improvement shall have a ductility, determined as herein prescribed, of not less than twenty (20) centimeters.

The mixture for the binder course shall be made by heating and intimately mixing the said limestone, or other stone, the said sand or the said limestone screenings and the said asphalt cement. The said mixture shall contain by weight five (5) per cent of bitumen soluble in carbon disulphide; twenty-five (25) per cent of said sand or said limestone screenings and seventy (70) per cent of said limestone, or other stone. The said mixture shall be spread on the said concrete foundation, and while in a hot and plastic condition shall be rolled to an even surface with a self-propelled roller weighing not less than ten (10) tons. The said binder course after ultimate compression shall have a thickness of two (2) inches, and the upper surface shall be parallel with and one and one-half (1½) inches below the upper surface of the finished pavement.

The mixture for the wearing course shall be made by intimately mixing, while hot, the said sand, the said asphalt cement and the said levigated stone. The said sand and the said asphalt cement shall be heated separately to a temperature of not less than three hundred (300) degrees Fahrenheit, and the said levigated stone shall be intimately mixed with the said sand and then both shall be intimately mixed with the said asphalt cement. The said mixture shall contain, by weight, bitumen soluble in carbon disulphide, eleven (11) per cent; said levigated stone fourteen (14) per cent; said sand which can pass an eighty (80) mesh sieve and cannot pass a two hundred (200) mesh sieve twenty-five (25) per cent; said sand which can pass a forty (40) mesh sieve and cannot pass an eighty (80) mesh sieve, thirty-six (36) per cent; said sand which can pass a ten (10) mesh sieve and cannot pass a forty (40) mesh sieve, twelve (12) per cent; said sand which can pass a four (4) mesh sieve and cannot pass a ten (10) mesh sieve, two (2) per cent. The said mixture shall be spread at a temperature of not less than two hundred sixty (260) degrees Fahrenheit to an even surface and to such a depth that after ultimate compression, it shall have a thickness of one and one-half (1½) inches. The wearing course, while still hot and plastic, shall be rolled with a self-propelled roller weighing not less than ten (10) tons. Natural hydraulic cement shall then be spread over the wearing course in such quantity that one (1) barrel of natural hydraulic cement shall cover one thousand (1000) square yards of said wearing course. The said wearing course shall then be thoroughly compressed by rolling with a self-propelled roller weighing not less than ten (10) tons.

Said work to be done in a workmanlike manner under the superintendence of the Board of Local Improvements of said City of Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 31, 1930.

To the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Chicago in City Council Assembled:

Your Committee on Track Elevation, having had under advisement the matter of procuring funds from the "Motor Fuel Tax" for the purpose of defraying part of the expense of depressing the tracks of the South Chicago Railroad Company (the Illinois Central Railroad) in East Seventy-first street, Commercial avenue and Exchange avenue, beg leave to report and recommend the adoption of the resolution submitted herewith:

WHEREAS, The present grade of the tracks of the South Chicago branch of the Illinois Central Railroad is at street level in East 71st street, Exchange avenue and Commercial avenue; and

WHEREAS, It has been impossible to check the number of deaths that have been caused by pedestrians and motorists being caught on said tracks at the approach of rapidly on-coming trains; and

WHEREAS, This menace to life and limb has had considerable effect in depreciating the value of property in and along the aforesaid thoroughfares; and

WHEREAS, It is the almost unanimous opinion of the residents and property-owners of this vicinity that the alterations of the grade of said tracks shall be in the direction of track depression rather than track elevation, to the end that the civic beauty and increased convenience to the people of this community might be served; and

WHEREAS, The report of competent engineers has revealed the fact that the cost of track depression is approximately twice as great as that of track elevation; and

WHEREAS, Under existing circumstances, it will be necessary for part of the increased cost of the depression to be defrayed in part by either the City or the property-owners; and

WHEREAS, The depression of these said tracks will give to the City of Chicago an increased and important roadway; and

WHEREAS, By an Act passed by the General Assembly during the session of 1929 and approved March 25, 1929, entitled "An Act in relation to a tax upon the privilege of operating motor vehicles upon public highways, based upon the consumption of motor fuel therein, and making certain appropriations in connection therewith", it was provided that certain moneys should be allotted to the several counties to be used for one or more of certain purposes, of which one is the following, to wit:

> For the construction of those state bond-issue routes or parts of routes designated as routes Nos. 1 to 185, inclusive, in An Act entitled "An Act in relation to the construction by the State of Illinois of a state-wide system of durable hard-surfaced roads upon public highways of the State and the provision of means for the payment of the cost thereof by an issue of bonds of the State of Illinois".

WHEREAS, It is the sense of this body that the thoroughfares in question are among the most important in point of traffic in the City of Chicago; and

WHEREAS, The increased surface therein which will result from the depression of the aforesaid tracks will help create a great outlet artery for the southeast district of the City of Chicago; and

WHEREAS, The consummation of this project will immeasurably enhance the beauty of this district and, finally, put an end to the appalling loss of life and the dire damage to property; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the City Council of the City of Chicago in regular session assembled that the members of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois be, and they are hereby, respectfully requested to amend, alter, or modify the above Act known as the "Motor Fuel Tax Law" in such a way that a sufficient appropriation may be had for the thoroughfares in East 71st street, Exchange avenue and Commercial avenue to the end that the money thus appropriated shall be applied to the track depression therein proposed.

Respectfully submitted,
